

House Museum Tours

Step Inside 200 Years of Columbia's Stories

Why Choose Historic Columbia's House Museum Tours?

Each house museum reveals a different chapter of the city's story, from entrepreneurial families and community leaders to national movements that shaped our future. Guided tours connect you with the people who lived and worked in these spaces, offering immersive exhibits, interactive storytelling, and powerful insights into more than two centuries of history.

Available Tours

HAMPTON-PRESTON MANSION

Explore the lives of the people, both free and enslaved, who shaped this grand 19th-century estate through more than 200 years of change.

MUSEUM OF THE RECONSTRUCTION ERA

Step into the nation's first museum dedicated to the Reconstruction period and uncover how freedom, citizenship, and democracy were redefined in post-Civil War South Carolina.

ROBERT MILLS HOUSE

Discover the neoclassical design and fascinating history of one of Columbia's earliest landmarks, designed by America's first federal architect.

JOURNEY TO FREEDOM TOUR

Follow the powerful stories of resilience and resistance as you trace the path from slavery to freedom across Historic Columbia's downtown sites.

Group Tour Information

PRICING AND SCHEDULING

$15 per person/per tour. Group tours must be booked at least two weeks in advance.

AVAILABILITY

Tours may be booked seven days a week, subject to guide availability.

Ready to Book?

Scan the QR code or visit the webpage to submit your group's details. If you have questions, please reach out to our Group Tour Coordinator, Adam Miller.

historiccolumbia.org/group-tours

